

A top-down view of a wooden surface adorned with various items. In the upper left, two whole red apples are visible. Below them, several apple slices are scattered. To the right, a glass jar is filled with golden honey. Next to it, a pomegranate is cut open, revealing its dark red seeds. In the center, a glass dish contains a pool of honey with a wooden honeycomb dipper resting in it. Another honeycomb is visible in the bottom right corner. The overall scene is warm and inviting, with natural lighting highlighting the textures of the wood and the freshness of the fruit.
